

BY FULTON & PRICE, PROPRIETORS.
To whom all letters on business must be addressed.
JAS. FULTON, Editor. A. L. PRICE, Associate Editor.
Terms of Subscription.
Weekly, one year, in advance, $2.00
Monthly, in advance, $1.00
By person sending us five new subscribers, we will send them the advance subscription, ($12.50) will receive the sixth copy gratis for one year.
All persons subscribing for this paper since the 29th of October, 1857, will have their papers discontinued on expiration of the time paid for. All former subscribers can come under this rule, if they desire to do so.

VOL. 15.

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 25, 1859.

NO. 30.

Professional and Business Cards.

SHINGLE, BARREL HEADING AND STAVE MACHINE.
Now on exhibition at JOHN C. BAILEY'S Machine Shop, Front street, Wilmington, N. C.
Please call and examine for yourselves. It is considered the greatest labor saving machine extant.
March 4, 1859. 27-1m

DICKERSON, WHITEHORE & REED, IMPORTERS OF
TIN PLATE, SHEET IRON, WIRE, ZINC, COPPER.
AND ALL ARTICLES FOR TINNERS' USE.
Nos. 245, 247 & 249 Water Street, New York.
Dealers and Manufacturers supplied at the lowest market rates, for cash, or time.
Feb. 18, 1859. 25-3m

DENTAL NOTICE.
DRS. S. A. McDOWELL & B. F. A. RICHARDS, having entered into a partnership in the practice of DENTISTRY, would respectfully inform the public that they are permanently located in Goldboro', and fully prepared to perform all operations in the various branches of the profession, in the most thorough and approved manner. The manufacturing department being under the care of Dr. McDOWELL, who has had extensive experience in the art. The following styles of work will be furnished to order, and at the most reasonable rates: "Continuous Block," a very beautiful and desirable style of work. "Continuous Gum," a beautiful and desirable style of work. "Valentine Base" and the various styles of single teeth.
The above styles of work will be furnished to the profession when directed at usual rates.
March 11th, 1859. 25-4f

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, &c.

LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDERS.
Will destroy Garden Insects, Cockroaches, Bed-Bugs, Fleas, Ants, Moths, and all pests of the domestic kind.
The importance of a reliable article of this kind is inestimable. In warm weather all nature teems with these annoying insects, which will exterminate them. A company of botanists, from the Horticultural Society of Paris, while amidst the ferns of Asie, observed that all insects lighting upon a certain plant were speedily destroyed. This fact was made use of to guard their night camps from the insects. Quantities of the plant were brought home by Mr. E. Lyon, and found a positive insect destroyer in every experiment. It is simply a powdered leaf, chemically prepared to resist the effect of age and climate. Medals and Letters Patent have been obtained from the governments of England, France, Germany and Russia. From the World's Fair, and numerous medical and horticultural colleges and societies.
Letter from the President of the United States.
"EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, 31st Jan. 1854.
"MR. EMANUEL LYON.—Dear Sir: We have the pleasure to inform you that the Commission of the World's Fair, at London, have awarded you a Medal and Certificate for the great value of your Magnetic Powders, &c.
"The above was accompanied by a certificate of Prince Albert.
"IT IS FREE FROM POISON.
New York, October 1st, 1858.
"MR. E. LYON.—Dear Sir: We have analysed and tested your Magnetic Powders and find them perfectly harmless to mankind and domestic animals, and certain death when inhaled by bugs, ants, and insects.
"JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist.
"L. LEONARD, D. D., Prof. Chemistry, N. Y. Hospital.
"Mr. John L. Rome, Superintendent of the N. Y. Hospital, says, 'he has expelled all the bugs, ants, roaches, moths, &c., with Lyon's Magnetic Powder, and finds it of immense value.'
"Every gardener and housekeeper must have a direct interest in an article of this kind. Reference can be made to the Astor, St. Nicholas, and Metropolitan Hotels; to Judge Meigs, President of the American Institute; to James Gordon Bennett, Gen. Winfield Scott, Cyrus W. Field, L. M. Pease, of the Five Points Mission, &c., &c. Judge Meigs says, 'This discovery of Prof. Lyon is of national importance. The Farmers' Club have tested it thoroughly. It will destroy locusts, grasshoppers, ants, moths, bugs, and all vermin. Garden plants can be preserved, and houses kept free from insects. Arrangements are now made through Messrs. BARNES & PARK, of New York, to have it sold through the world. Many worthless imitations are advertised.'
"In retreating from business, I have sold all my Insect Powders and Pills, Letters Patent, and the secrets pertaining thereto, to Messrs. BARNES & PARK. The Powder is a discovery made by myself, and brought from the interior of Asia, and is unknown to any other persons. The genuine article will put up in tin cansisters, and will come to bear my name.
"Rats and mice cannot be reached by a powder, and are killed by a MAGNETIC PILL. Order then through any merchant.
"This Lyon's Powder kills insects in a trice.
"But Lyon's Pills are mixed for rats and mice.
"Sample Pills are sent, by mail, 50 cents and $1.00. Follow directions. Use freely and thoroughly.
BARNES & PARK, 13 & 15 Park Row, New York.
Jan. 7, 1859. 19-4m

For Sale and to Let.

TURPENTINE! TURPENTINE! TURPENTINE!
80,000 TURPENTINE BOXES on and near the Railroad, about 6 miles from Fayetteville, will be rented on good terms to any persons wishing to embark in the business.
Also, a good SAW AND GRIST MILL, and TWO SMALL FARMS.
Also, TWO OF THE RICHEST FARMS in the county of Cumberland, one about one mile from the Market House, known as the Bailey place, the other about 10 miles from town, known as the celebrated ASHE LANDS, which has 200 or 300 acres cleared land, which if properly cultivated, will produce an average of 30 bushels Corn per acre. Those wishing to rent said farms must apply soon, or they cannot be rented.
For particulars apply to C. E. Lee, Fayetteville, who is authorized to rent in my absence.
Fayetteville, Feb. 8, 1859. 25-4f

FOR SALE OR RENT.
THE LATE RESIDENCE OF GEN. JOHN GRAY BYNUM, deceased, corner of 5th and Orange Streets, for terms, apply to N. N. Nixon, Esq., or C. T. N. Davis, Esq., or to the undersigned, Cottage Home, Lincoln County, N. C., or to W. M. BYNUM, Administrator.
January 8th, 1858. 19-4f

LAND FOR SALE.
THE SUBSCRIBER offers for sale 2,600 acres of LAND, on the South West side of the Wilmington & Manchester Railroad, and in the county of Brunswick, immediately adjoining the said Road, about 23 miles from Wilmington, and about 2 miles below Maxwell's station. Five or six hundred acres can be done through any of said lands, and put in a fine farm at less expense than any land that I know of. It is covered with a growth of Oak, Ash, Poplar, Sweet Gum, Mulberry, and all the other growth of wood land on fine soil or Hamlet land. It is a very desirable tract, and back of the above is a fine SWAMP, with a heavy growth of CYPRESS AND RED OAK. At this time carrying can be done through any of said lands. The range for hogs or cattle is the finest I ever saw. Persons wishing to examine said lands will find me near Westboro, N. C., or word to me at Wilmington, N. C., and I will show it.
J. A. ROBERTSON.
October 29th, 1858. 9-4f

Official Notices.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.
NEW HANOVER COUNTY.
WHEREAS, information has been given to me, as the undersigned, by the oath of C. B. MILLER, that five slaves, his property, (viz.) HARRY, SAM, and SIMON, both run away and lies out and lurking in swamps, woods, and other remote places, committing depredations to the peaceful inhabitants of said State. These are in the name of the State of North Carolina, known as the Bailey place, the other about 10 miles from town, known as the celebrated ASHE LANDS, which has 200 or 300 acres cleared land, which if properly cultivated, will produce an average of 30 bushels Corn per acre. Those wishing to rent said farms must apply soon, or they cannot be rented.
For particulars apply to C. E. Lee, Fayetteville, who is authorized to rent in my absence.
Fayetteville, Feb. 8, 1859. 25-4f

REWARDS.
$500 REWARD.
I WILL GIVE A REWARD OF FIFTY DOLLARS for either of the above negroes, or if alive, delivered to me or for their confinement in jail so that I can get them.
New Hanover Co., Jan. 25th, 1859. C. B. MILLER.

REWARDS.
$500 REWARD.
I WILL ALSO GIVE A REWARD OF TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS for either of the above negroes, or if alive, delivered to me or for their confinement in jail so that I can get them.
New Hanover Co., Jan. 25th, 1859. C. B. MILLER.

Plon-Plon.

There is much significance in a pet name. By it may be indicated exceeding love or exceeding hate: the extreme of admiration and the extreme of contempt.—When the French soldiers bestowed upon the great Napoleon the sobriquet of "le petit Caporal," they testified, at the same time, their enthusiasm for their leader and their love for the man. When the republican press of Paris bestowed upon Louis Napoleon that of "Badaguy," they intended to convey, and probably did convey, to the French nation the sentiment of their profound hatred and contempt for him. We have now another example of a nick-name which has like that of "Badaguy" for the king of Naples) come into common use to represent a fussy, passionate, self-important nonentity, known to the world as the Prince Napoleon Bonaparte. The origin of this sobriquet is somewhat obscure, but there it is—"stat nominis umbra"—and the sensual, base prince rejoices in it as best he may.

Our present business, however, is not so much with the name as with the man. He occupies at this moment a very prominent position in the world, and his recent marriage with the daughter of the King of Sardinia, has linked his fortunes with those of Italy. He is, moreover, "the nephew of his uncle," whom he strongly resembles, a circumstance that has always given him a certain amount of attraction in the eyes of the French. His father, Jerome, still lives in the gorgeous seclusion of the Tuileries, an infirm old man, devoted to the charms of the Italian Pallas, who has for years been under him a ministering angel, and has her abode in the saloons in the Palais Royal that once belonged to Philippe Egalite. The succession to the imperial crown is fixed upon Jerome and his descendants, in default of heirs to the present holder, and in defiance of the laws of inheritance, for the children of Lucien Bonaparte are of elder branch, and therefore the real heirs would be the Princes of Canino, and the Princes of Canino, the Parisian gossip, Prince Napoleon already plays the Emperor and bullies even the impassible Louis Napoleon himself. His antecedents have, apparently, wrought in to his dull mind the conviction that he is a great man as his imperial cousin, though his exploits in the Crimea certainly were not such as to remind the world of his illustrious uncle; nor has his government of Algeria manifested capacity for ruling even a horde of Zouaves. His want of popularity has lately been shown in Paris, to his intense mortification. The gossips report that, immediately on his arrival there from his matrimonial expedition to Italy, he made complaints of various grievances—real and imaginary—to the great annoyance of the Emperor, who the uninitiated could not understand the drift until the truth was made known. He had been instructed to make a high-flown speech to the Italians, by way of a feller, which, having been interpreted and accepted by them in the war spirit, the Emperor thought it advisable to check their ardor by one from himself, in a more pacific strain. Exasperated at this, Plon-Plon insisted upon an interview with his master, who was suffering from a cold, and who, in the end, he devotedly wished him on the other side of the Styx. The Emperor had called M. Delangle, the Minister of the Interior, to his aid, and the following scene is reported to have occurred. The Prince, in a bitter tone, reproached the Emperor with making a fool of him in the Italian business. The Emperor defended himself.—"My opinion is," he said, "in favor of war, as you are well aware; but the country is so so divided, that I am in favor of peace, that it would be madness to oppose it." "Then why make me pronounce that bombastic discourse at Genoa, which has raised the hopes of Italy, and rendered me a mark for ridicule?" "When the discourse was penned, I had not yet received these," said the Emperor, as he took a packet of papers from his bureau and handed them to Plon-Plon. "These were letters from the prefects of various departments of France, all pressing the great aversion which existed in their several departments to the war, and the impossibility of keeping the rural population in order should any fresh levies be made, or any fresh taxes be laid on. Plon-Plon tossed them carelessly aside and was beginning further recriminations when Delangle was announced, and the interview was closed. Plon-Plon was instantly introduced to the new channel afforded by the minister's entrance. The coldness of his reception on his return to Paris, Plon-Plon ranking at his heart, the more so as he had all along expressed his opinion that no public display ought to have been made, and he was not sorry to reproach the minister with having yielded to the opinion of the court. He therefore burst at the head of the unlucky Delangle a storm of abuse, couched in language far more celebrated. "If," said he, "you had done your duty, and taken a little trouble in the matter, my reception would have been very different." "Pardon me," replied the minister; "if I had not done my duty, and taken a little trouble in the matter, your imperial Highness' reception would have been very different, indeed." Plon-Plon was so exasperated at this unexpected reply, that, seizing the instigator from the table, he was about to throw it at the offender's head, when his arm was arrested by his imperial cousin, who held him fast until his passion had subsided and Delangle, on a sign from the Emperor, had left the room—grinning. This interview had another effect, not anticipated. The Emperor was suddenly seized with a severe cold, which rendered him unable to leave his room, and which he was unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence in his medical advisers. He labors under frequent heaviness, and sleep is almost impossible, and he is unable to perform his duties. The Emperor is said to be in a state of nervous prostration, and to be unable to leave his room, and which he is unable to leave without assistance. Such is the latest "on dit" of the political saloon of Paris. The Parisian world prophesied a new Emperor at no very distant date. In fact, the Emperor himself is said to be alarmed at his own symptoms, and to display much uneasiness and want of confidence